

From the Pastor's Desk

This past week I read in the Acts of the Apostles (Acts 8:26—40) how God worked through the apostle Phillip to convert a court official and who then asked to be baptized. Phillip's influence on that court official had a major impact on his life. I found myself asking myself who have been the "Phillips" in my life? Who have been the individuals who have influenced me and impacted my life? In light of this reflection I saw an obituary in the N.Y. Times that caught my eye. The obituary was about Robert Palladino who was a former Trappist monk and a skilled calligrapher. After leaving the monastery, Palladino taught calligraphy and typography at Reed College in Portland, Oregon. To his students he brought a world of elegant scholarship and quiet contemplation.

In 1972, Prof. Palladino's work had a powerful impact on one student in particular. The student had dropped out of school for economic reasons, but audited the calligraphy class. The student absorbed everything Prof. Palladino said about the design and execution of letters. The student was Steve Jobs. When Jobs and company designed the first Macintosh computer, they included the principles of typography that Jobs had learned from Palladino. Steve Jobs often said that had he not met Robert Palladino, Apple computers would not have the level of professionally-designed fonts and graphics that Apple computers are known for.

Prof. Palladino, who died on February 26, 2016 at the age of 83, said little about the influence he had on Apple. Though he had a major influence on Jobs, the converse cannot be said. To the end of his life, Prof. Palladino never owned, or even used, a computer. "I have my hand and I have my pen. That's it." A gifted young technical visionary encountered a master of the ancient art of calligraphy and their meeting led to a revolution in the written word.

When you think about it throughout our lives, we are blessed with parents, teachers, mentors and coaches who helped us to understand how life works. They generously shared the experience of their own struggles, mistakes and catastrophes so that we have an easier time in getting on with our own lives.

So who have been the "Phillips" you have met who have helped you see God's presence in your life? Who have been the Robert Palladinos who have challenged you to do good and meaningful things despite your own fears and misgivings? Let us take a moment this week to identify them and thank God for them. If they are still alive reach out to them and tell them how they made a difference in your life. Another great way to give thanks for them is by resolving to be a Prof. Palladino for some other Steve Jobs, showing them, by your own struggles and victories, how this gift of life works.

Phillip brought the court official to the Lord by reaching out to him. Do you know someone who has left the Church and who is no longer going to mass that you could reach out to and invite to "Come Back Home"? Someone for whom you could be Phillip for? We are offering the Come Back Home program on three consecutive Tuesday nights beginning on May 3rd. It is a great program but I need your help!! I need you to reach out to that family member or friend who have left the Church and encourage them to attend and so that we can repair any damage done by the Church or heal any hurt they may have experienced. For information on the program, please contact me or Joe Mitcho at jfmitcho44@gmail.com.

Please Pray For All those who are sick: Mary Hayden; Kurt Nagel; Annelies Gendron; Bruce Meisner, Col. U.S, Army Retired; Thomas DeBack; Donna Smiley; and Hudson Beck.

This weekend is a joyous occasion here at St. Francis.

We have commissioned 11 wonderful and dedicated people into the call of Stephen Ministry. After 50+ hours of training, retreats, role playing, prayer, scripture, and community, these fantastically gifted people are ready to rightfully take their place among us in our St. Francis community as Stephen Ministers. They are very much needed as our ministry grows. Please welcome...
